Rising Tides: artist talk with Mary Edna Fraser

THURSDAY, MAY 4
4PM & 6PM
Joseph Floyd Manor
2106 Mt. Pleasant Street

“Rising Tides” is a visual presentation focused on Charleston’s frequent flooding, with local scientific research.

As an environmental activist, Mary Edna Fraser’s art stimulates social change. Batiks on silk and oil paintings of threatened landscapes educate about sea level rise through collaboration with Duke University’s Orrin Pilkey in Climate Change: A Primer.

Light refreshments served.

WE ARGUE.
NATURE ACTS.
-Voltaire

Charleston Airborne by Mary Edna Fraser, batik on silk